PREFACE

This addenda is an attempt to up-date the four volume, 1800 page reference work produced in 1992. At best it does only a fair job for several reasons. It was not feasible to visit the 140 locations that were previously personally visited and cataloged. It also was not possible to contact the other 560+ locations to find out what they had added in the way of new companies or new types of material for a railroad which in the Guide might have listed only annual reports or pictures. The major source of information on special collections disappeared when the Library of Congress at the end of 1993 discontinued their annual volume, National Union Catalog of Manuscript Collections. Also, as was the case in 1991, many of the non professional sources such as railfan operated museums and libraries do not have a catalog system that will tell just what railroad and other companies they have or a general idea of the material on each company. These locations have gotten many railfan-given collections. I had no way of learning more than just a few such collections.

When I did the original Guide we went and looked at the collections noting down every railroad, car company, etc. names. I did not feel like traveling to twenty or thirty locations and inspecting what they merely list in their brochure or Internet as a "xyz collection of 2300 builder photos."

The Internet has most recent acquisitions included, those known are included here. The problem with the Internet is that it is a generalist presentation and not designed for what railroad historians need. So, to find things takes a tremendous amount of time (e.g. – often luck) and often will not be worth the bother. You can't just type in Norfolk and Western Railway Special Collection" (I got 6100+) or "National Union Catalog of Manuscript Collections"- "Norfolk and Western" which got nothing.

Now, having told the limitations, just what is included? It includes National Union Catalog of Manuscript Collections up through 1993, some additional negative collection catalogs and information sent to me by about 45 people.

While purposely not included, when doing research, local, county and state historical societies should be researched, along with the old newspapers. County court house records on deeds, mortgages, foreclosures may prove helpful. Refer to "Resource Locations" in the original Guide for additional possibilities. Biographies, often in county histories, may include information of those involved with a railroad.

¶ This Addenda is intended to be used in conjunction with the original Guide or abstract.

I would like to thank the follow for giving informatio. presented here: John E. Beach, Leroy Y. Beaujon, Kurt Bell, Robert Brendenl, Lawrence R. Duffee, William K. Heintz, Richard Hillman, Richard Hoover, William Kaminsky, William P. McDermott, Robert E. Schultz, Kent Stephens, J.W. Swanberg, Marie Tedesco, James Willett, Jan B. Young,

COLLECTIONS THAT HAVE BEEN MOVED

1. AARL, Association of American Railroads library, has gone to the Barriger Library, SLMF, which in turn has gone to the University of Missouri, St. Louis,
2. Railway and Locomotive Historical Society – East, RLHSE, and Railway and Locomotive Historical Society Pollitt Collection have gone to R&LHS at Sacramento which in turn has transferred everything to the California State Railroad Museum, CSRM
3. Interstate Commerce Commission, ICCL, records have gone to the University of Denver, CODEN.
4. Pliny Fisk Collection formerly at Princeton, PULF, has had the steam railroad records moved to Barriger Library at St. Louis, BARPF, and the electric railway material moved to the Electric Railroaders Association, NYERA. In processing this collection it was found that many of the railroads listed in the Guide had nothing, and so a new list appears in this Addenda
5. National Archives, NARIC, for ICC Valuation records have been moved from Suitland, Md to 8601 Adelphi Rd, College Park, Md 20740.
6. Colgate Univ.'s, VVC, collection on the Central New England RR and its predecessors, Archive #1635 in the Guide, has been ransfered to University of Connecticut, ICW.
